The Four-Way Test

Is it the TRUTH?	Is it FAIR to all concerned?
Will it build GOODWILL & BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?	Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?

March 28 — Dr. Don Blakeslee
WSU Professor of Anthropology and Archeologist
Topic: Ark City's Ancient Indian City of "Etzanoa"

Not many have heard of Etzanoa. Not yet that is. Researchers believe they have discovered the "great settlement" described by the explorer Don Juan de Oñate. Etzanoa was said to have stretched for 5 miles and housed 20,000 ancestors of the Wichita tribe near the confluence of two rivers. In a study led by Dr. Don Blakeslee, it was confirmed that Etzanoa once straddled the banks of the Walnut River in modern Arkansas City, Kansas. It is believed that Etzanoa is the second-largest pre-Columbian Native American settlement in the United States, and possibly the largest.

Blakeslee has been a professor of Anthropology at Wichita State University since 1976. One of the leading archaeologists working in the Great Plains, his research interests range from the time of the earliest settlement of the Americas to the historic period. His work has carried him from Montana to Texas. Blakeslee's research has received recognition from the Sigma Xi Honorary Society for Scientific Research (1969, 1980), the Kansas Academy of Sciences (1996), the Texas Historical Foundation (1997) and Wichita State University (1996, 1998). He is the author of six books and numerous articles in scholarly and popular journals. He has been president of the Professional Archaeologists of Kansas and of AASCK, a society for amateur archaeologists. He currently serves on the board of the Plains Anthropological Society.

ROTARY MEETING — MARCH 21, 2016

Rotarians enjoyed a look back at the past with author, musician and lecturer, J. C. Combs, on Monday. Dr. Combs shared excerpts from the book he co-authored with his sister, Barbara, entitled Clearmont: Life in a Small Town in the 1940's and Early '50s. He also treated us to an award-winning song he first performed in a talent show several decades ago. The entire presentation was immensely entertaining.

President Clay helped Dick West and Bob Vincent celebrate important anniversaries with Rotary. Dick has been with the club 30 years and Bob has been a Rotarian for 50 years! Thanks to both gentlemen for their many years of service.

New member Joe Yager was officially welcomed to the club with a new member introduction by his father, Steve Yager. Joe is a partner with Kirby Yager Financial Group. Welcome, Joe!
