The Four-Way Test

Is it the TRUTH?	Is it FAIR to all concerned?
Will it build GOODWILL & BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?	Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?

August 8 — Rebecca Martin
Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) — Special Agent

Topic: *The FBI Today and Its Investigative Priorities

A native of Ohio, Rebecca Martin earned both a bachelor's and a master's degree in criminal justice from the University of Cincinnati. She worked as a Cincinnati police officer assigned to the patrol division for 5 years before joining the FBI as a special agent in 1997. Her years with the FBI have taken her to Kansas City and Wichita, where she has been assigned to the investigation of predominately white collar crime.

Martin currently serves as a supervisory senior resident agent in Wichita. In this position, she supervises the Wichita and Garden City offices in criminal and national security matters. For over 12 years, Martin served on the Kansas City FBI response team and participated on interview boards for new agents.

In her spare time, Rebecca is an avid health enthusiast who runs and works out at the YMCA. She loves to garden and volunteers at her church, her children's school and with the Neighbor Ministries Step Stone program. Motivated by the challenges her mother faced when suffering from ALS, Rebecca has served as a team captain for the Wichita ALS annual walk for the past 6 years. Her husband, Kevin Kochenderfer, is a sergeant with the Wichita Police department and they have three children.

August 15 — Brendan Groves — National Security Lawyer

Topic: *The Unseen Battlefield: Cyber Threats to American Security

Born and raised in Wichita, KS, Brendan Groves is a security lawyer, military veteran and an experienced social entrepreneur. He currently serves in the Office of Law and Policy in the National Security Division of the United States Department of Justice, where he advises senior leaders on novel and complex issues involving cyber policy and counterterrorism. Groves previously served as a law clerk to the Honorable Janice Rogers Brown on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the D.C. Circuit. Before clerking, he was the special counsel to the general counsel of the National Security Agency, where he played a significant role in responding to leaks of classified information.

Brendan served for four years as an Air Force JAG officer. His military service included a deployment to Afghanistan with joint special operations forces. In stateside assignments, he prosecuted complex criminal cases including murder and breaches of classified information. He also advised on issues related to Remotely Piloted Aircraft (i.e., drones). He has received multiple awards, including the Bronze Star Medal, the NSA Director's Award and two awards from the Office of the Director of National Intelligence (National Intelligence Community Junior Attorney of the Year and Team of the Year).

Apart from his government service, Groves is a leader in the philanthropic community, having founded several organizations. One of those, Flying Scarfs (www.flyingscarfs.com), is a veteran-run enterprise that empowers marginalized widows in Afghanistan and Kenya by selling handmade artisan items. Brendan co-founded Flying Scarfs in Kenya in 2013. He also founded The Wishing Well, a non-profit organization that has funded more than 100 water projects in the developing world. Brendan serves on the board of directors of other organizations, including Together We Can in Raleigh, NC and the Idea Catalyst in Washington, D.C.

Groves received his law degree from Yale Law School and his undergraduate degree, summa cum laude, from Pepperdine University.
