The Four-Way Test

Is it the TRUTH?	Is it FAIR to all concerned?
Will it build GOODWILL & BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?	Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?

MARCH 26 — MIKE SMITH

CERTIFIED CONSULTING METEOROLOGIST

TOPIC: FORTY SEVEN YEARS OF WEATHER SCIENCE; LOOKING BACK AND LOOKING FORWARD

Mike Smith likes to be known as a husband, father, scientist, entrepreneur, author, and speaker. He is one of America's leading experts in the field of extreme weather and its effects on people, business and society. After 47 years as a professional meteorologist, Mike (happily) retires March 31.

After a successful career in television meteorology, during which he invented color radar and broadcast a tornado, live, as it moved through Oklahoma City, he founded WeatherData, Inc., in 1981. WeatherData quickly became known for its innovation, customer service and excellence in precision forecasting of extreme weather. In 2006, Mike sold WeatherData to AccuWeather Enterprise Solutions where he has continued as senior vice president and chief innovation executive.

Mike achieved his board certification as a consulting meteorologist in 1984. In 1992, he received the American Meteorological Society's Award for Outstanding Contribution to Applied Meteorology for his innovative storm warnings. In 2000, WeatherData was honored with the Society's award for Outstanding Contribution to Meteorology by a Corporation. His inventions have resulted in more than 30 U.S. and foreign patents.

A new chapter opened in Mike's career in 2010 with Greenleaf Book Group publishing his first book, Warnings: The True Story of How Science Tamed the Weather. The book has received rave reviews and holds a 5-star rating at Amazon. A reviewer at the San Francisco-based Chronic compared Warnings to a "meteorologist's version of Tom Wolfe's best seller, The Right Stuff." His second book, When the Sirens Were Silent, is a monograph that reveals, for the first time, what went wrong with the storm warning system during the Joplin, MO tornado of 2011 where 161 perished, most unnecessarily.

Mike is also a professional speaker who both educates and entertains audiences across the United States. Mike is married with three grown children, two children-in-law, and two granddaughters. Mike and Kathleen, married 44 years, live in Wichita, love living here, and plan to stay after his retirement.

APRIL 2 — CARSON NUSS — KANSAS STATE HIGHWAY PATROL TECHNICAL TROOPER

TOPIC: CHALLENGES FACING THE DRUG AND ALCOHOL
EVALUATION UNIT OF THE KANSAS HIGHWAY PATROL

Technical Trooper Carson A. Nuss is a 17-year member of the Kansas Highway Patrol with over 20 years in law enforcement. He has been assigned the last nine years to the Drug and Alcohol Evaluation Unit. The Unit is responsible for all the training in the State to recognize the people who are under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs. Understanding when someone is impaired is important, not just while they are driving. As the acceptance of drugs and their usage become more common, understanding how that can affect businesses with employment and customers is important. Discussion about the challenges, risks and plans to deal with these issues cannot start too soon.

Congratulations!

ROTARY MEETING — MARCH 19, 2018

Our member Allen Clouse gave a fascinating explanation designed for a layman about Bitcoin and crypto assets. Although a complicated topic, most came away with a bit more knowledge than they had coming in. Thanks, Allen!

The club welcomed back former member Larry Van Horn who was introduced by his long-time friend and business associate Susan Armstrong. Larry is the owner of CFO on Call.

President Jeff presented Tim Rozzell and Mark Eaton with their permanent Rotary badges.

Mary Beth Jarvis introduced Tim Norton who will serve as the 2018 Windwagon Smith during the upcoming Riverfest.
