APRIL 30 — JOE SCHILLACI, HOMICIDE DETECTIVE FROM A & E's FIRST 48 HOUR REALITY SERIES

TOPIC: INSIDE MY PRISON OF DARKNESS

Captain Joseph Schillaci is a retired homicide and undercover narcotics detective with over 30 years experience on some of the meanest streets in Miami, Florida. Joe was featured on A&E's First 48 crime series and has been featured on Dead Again and Miami City Vice specials.

Schillaci's passion for speaking and presenting have taken him all across the country where he speaks to business groups, law enforcement academies, swat negotiation teams, veterans and schools where he shares his insight on anti-bullying, stress management, and extending forgiveness to others to make a difference. Joe's book Inside My Prison of Darkness depicts his personal struggle with post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD) along with his life experiences surrounding his career in law enforcement.

Schillaci has served proudly as a lieutenant in the community affairs section which oversees and supports various community involvement programs. He is a certified nonviolence counselor and has developed and produced anti-gang and anti-bullying campaigns to make people aware of the damaging effects of both physical and emotional violence. He uses his leadership and relationship-building skills, along with his wisdom as a body language expert, to motivate and inspire others.

Joe is a husband and father working as a private investigator in Wichita, Kansas. He enjoys traveling and spending time with his family.

MAY 7 — JONATHAN SANDYS

GREAT-GRANDSON OF WINSTON CHURCHILL AND AUTHOR

TOPIC: GOD AND CHURCHILL

GUEST RESERVATIONS REQUIRED BY MAY 2

Jonathan Sandys is a great-grandson of Britain's wartime prime minister Sir Winston Churchill and an international public speaker on the life, times and leadership of his illustrious relative and the impact Sir Winston still has on the world today. He is the co-author of God & Churchill, which presents evidence strongly supporting Sir Winston's own view that his life was both guided and protected by, as he put it, 'divine intervention'. Sandys is also the curator of the online publication Impressions of Churchill, which allows people who met the great man, as well as those who are just now old enough to have heard of him, to share their thoughts on the impact Sir Winston has made on their lives.

The legacy of Sir Winston Churchill and the Second World War is legendary, but most are unaware of the many struggles Churchill faced and overcame in every stage of life. Over his fifty-year political career, Churchill was ostracized by colleagues who called him a crank and he was rejected by many who he had once considered friends. With courage and faith, he stood for what he believed in. With integrity, he truly represented the people who had elected him. Churchill's courageous determination enabled the British to stand firm against Hitler and the Nazis, even when France surrendered and Britain stood alone. The example of Sir Winston Churchill is a legacy of success in the face of failure. It proudly stands as a demonstration of how one man's courageous determination, faithful leadership, and steadfast integrity in the face of defeat, changed the world.

Sandys writes a weekly blog Never Surrender! found at ChurchillBulletin.com and offers daily quotes from his great-grandfather at ChurchillQuote.com.

Congratulations!

A WONDERFUL DAY AT THE RANCH

Rotarian Jamie Lindamood hosted the third annual Day at the Ranch on Saturday. The rain did not dampen the spirits of the many Rotarians and family members who boarded a bus for an information-packed day in the Flint Hills. Jamie and her husband, Diltz, along with Cattleman Matt Perrier and his family, did a fine job of educating the participants in the basics of agriculture and cattle ranching. The guests enjoyed a delicious lunch, snacks throughout the day and a glass of wine on the ride home. If you didn't make the trip this year, look for it again in the spring of 2019.
