The Four-Way Test

Is it the TRUTH?	Is it FAIR to all concerned?
Will it build GOODWILL & BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?	Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?

November 13 — Entrepreneur Panel Featuring:

Trevor Crotts — Buddy Brands; Abby Hannaford — Cozy Leaf; Ramsey Jamoul — eSports; Jeff Jones — TRU Building and Steven Werner — Lawn Buddy

Trevor Crotts has an extensive background in sales, marketing and training which provides him with the experience to implement his strategic vision in innovative ways. He is an entrepreneur, manufacturer, CEO and digital marketer who understands the struggle, sacrifice, and tenacity needed in order to be successful. He is currently serving as President of Buddy Brands, a pet products manufacturer that makes products under several different brands in the pet industry.

Abby Hannaford is the founder and CEO of Cozy Leaf, specializing in organic loose leaf tea blends that are designed for wellness and delicious to sip. Abby is a mother, friend, tea lover and accidental entrepreneur. Her passion for helping others through delicious cups of tea has brought her into the most challenging role of her career as she has taken the stage as a business owner.

Jeff Jones is a practiced construction advisor and visionary with over 30 years in the industry, Jeff founded TRU Building in 2010. His continuous study of building science informs the company's focus on high performance buildings. He is dedicated to delivering beauty, function and value on every project and sets the standard for TRU Building's commitment to relentlessly proactive methods.

Ramsey Jamoul is an avid entrepreneur, programmer and gamer. With a passion for competitive video games, Ramsey started the WSU eSports team and helped build the infrastructure for eSports in the Midwest. Now he has set his sights on professionalizing amateur and collegiate eSports around the United States.

Steven Werner is the CEO and co-founder of Lawn Buddy, an on-demand lawn care service that is actively transforming an archaic industry. Steven has a diversified background with experience in large capital project management and has also spent four years proudly serving our country in the United States Marine Corps. His proven record of leadership, integrity, dedication and teamwork continue to guide him as he grows his company.

November 20 — Clay Small

Former PepsiCo, Inc. and Pizza Hut General Counsel and Author

Topic: Foreign Corrupt Practices Act - Fact and Fiction

During his thirty-year career at PepsiCo, Inc., Clay G. Small was general counsel of nearly all of PepsiCo's current and former divisions, including Frito-Lay, Pepsi-Cola, Pizza Hut, Kentucky Fried Chicken, and PepsiCo Wines & Spirits. He worked as senior vice president – managing Attorney at PepsiCo, Inc. In that position, he was responsible for all legal matters arising out of PepsiCo's global operating divisions.

Small received his JD from Southern Methodist University in Dallas, where he was a member of Law Review and Barristers. He received his BA in English from Ohio Wesleyan University, where he was a two-time all-American soccer player and drafted by The Dallas Tornado. He is also a Fellow of the Dallas Bar Association.

Clay has come full circle returning to SMU as a professor in the Cox School of Business and is also a member of the Law School Executive Committee. Informed by his experiences as a husband, father, professor, executive, and world traveler, Clay has shaped multidimensional characters and thrilling storylines in Heels over Head that bring readers to the front lines of human engagement. ROTARY MEETING — NOVEMBER 6

Mike Pompeo, Director of the CIA, and Jim Grier visited after the meeting. Rotarians enjoyed hearing about the state of the country's security.

President Jeff Van Sickle introduced new member Brad Rukes who is with the University of Kansas Endowment. Welcome, Brad!

Gayle Goetz's team enjoyed working on our Habitat For Humanity House on November 4th. The smiles show how much fun they had helping a family build their new home.
